Dulles Arrives In Paris For NATO Parley

Political, Economic Roles For Alliance Seen As Chief Goals

PARIS (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew into Paris today to try to breathe some new life into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Dulles came here for a week-end meeting of the 15-nation NATO Council of Foreign Ministers which may expand the military alliance into political and economic fields.

Dulles was pictured in Washington as coming to the meeting without any specific blueprint. Officials there said he was anxious to hear the views of other governments.

But the secretary's remarks on leaving the U. S. capital and a White House statement made it clear development of a program of economic and possibly political action for the "North Atlantic community" would be given intensive study.

Other problems such as the Palestine and Cyprus crises and Russian policy were certain to draw Dulles' attention also, particularly at preliminary meetings with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

DULLES SAID in Washington one of the primary purposes of the NATO Council meeting was to consult on steps to organize the North Atlantic Community into "something more than a military alliance."

Gov. Lausche Disputes Dem Party Chief

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche says the present strength of the Democratic party in Ohio "is greater than it has been since 1938."

Lausche sharply replied to a statement by Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler Monday that there is "great need" to rehabilitate the party in Ohio.

Said Gov. Lausche: "The positions of chief executives are now held by Democrats in the metropolitan cities in greater numbers than ever before."

"It would be better for the national chairman to direct his attention in the cultivation of Democratic strength in his own and other states."

Butler is a native of Indiana. Lausche, who is running unopposed for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator from Ohio, also sharply retorted to Butler's criticism of his support of Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill.

"With regards to rigid supports, Butler is wrong and that I am right," the governor said. "Our country cannot endure extravagant subsidies adopted a few months before election and intended primarily to gain votes without regard to the impact that the program would have ultimately on our country."

Lausche also said he was not looking for financial aid in his campaign for senator.

"In the performance of my public obligation I contemplate remaining free without entanglements resulting from political contributions," Lausche said.

Reider Promising Give DiSalle A Job

HIRAM (AP)—Robert Reider today promised to give Michael V. DiSalle a place in his cabinet if elected governor of Ohio.

The two were among the five Democratic candidates for governor who appeared today at Hiram College's mock Democratic nominating convention. Reider said:

"I admire DiSalle so greatly that I hereby offer him a cabinet post in the Reider administration, for Mike is an honorable man."

Final Rezoning Showdown Delayed Month By Council

Lawmakers Agree To Public Hearing On June 5; Both Sides Claim To See Advantage In Waiting

After a brief discussion that revealed council has yet to make up its mind on the subject, Circleville's lawmakers Tuesday night decided to put the Hargus Creek rezoning proposal through routine procedure that delays a showdown for at least a month.

Council adopted a resolution by which the rezoning measure—designed to clear the way for a shopping center—will be advertised for a 30-day period. Then council will hold a public hearing on the legislation, presumably at its regular session on June 5. Final decision on the plan is up to council.

Council acted after being formally notified that the city planning and zoning commission had recommended against the zoning change. The planning body turned down the move Monday night by unanimous vote.

Spokesmen for both sides of the controversial issue claimed, in private discussions, to draw encouragement from council's action.

THOSE favoring the rezoning insisted it means the lawmakers are willing to be "sold" on the idea, despite the adverse recommendation of the planning group. Those opposed to the rezoning, however, pointed out that council's action will make the measure easier to kill when the lawmaking body begins its own study.

When that time comes, City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins reminded the lawmakers, it would take the votes of six of council's seven members to pass the "shopping center ordinance" over the thumbs-down ruling of the planning group.

Actually, council's action appeared to be merely a middle-of-road move, made because none of the lawmakers appeared willing to spark an immediate "finish fight" on the proposal—one way or the other. It was also pointed out by one member:

"It will give us 30 days to think the whole thing over."

None of the councilmen was willing to speak publicly pro or con on the basic issue.

In notifying council of its recommendation against the pending measure, the planning body called attention to the reasons cited by the planners late last year when a similar effort was turned down—also by unanimous vote. The points stressed in this list of reasons have been touched upon at various times during public debates on the question.

IMMEDIATELY after the commission's letter was accepted by council, Councilman George Crites appeared to be asking whether the rezoning—and the shopping center—could be approved under a special, rigid set of rules intended to eliminate some of the major objections cited by affected property owners. These rules would be grouped into a special zone classification for the specific case on hand.

Robbins told Crites that such a move, through a new ordinance, may be possible. But he reminded Crites:

"You'd have to start over from the beginning anyway, and go through the planning commission again."

Crites a short time later revealed that he did not have this in mind, and that he hoped council could take some such action without requiring another study by the planning group.

After the solicitor had given his reply, Crites immediately said: "I move that the ordinance be advertised."

And Council President Ben Gordon asked: "You want to have it read first, don't you?"

The key resolution had not yet come up for action.

COUNCILMAN Harold Clifton then resumed discussion along the same line mentioned by Crites, the possibility of "setting up some sort of classification that would permit stores of certain types." Robbins repeated that no such action would be valid without having the proposal placed again before the planning body.

The key resolution was then read.

"In view of public interest in the (rezoning) ordinance, I move adoption of the resolution," Crites said.

But Clifton again launched a discussion, this time pointing out that "if we don't intend to pass the ordinance," there would seem to be no good reason to authorize the advertising of it.

At this point, Councilman Dudley Carpenter suddenly intervened: "A second Mr. Crites' motion" (Continued on Page Two)

Plans All Ready For Bloodmobile In City Tomorrow

Final arrangements were being made for tomorrow's visit by the bloodmobile in Circleville.

The Red Cross blood collection unit will be at the Methodist Church from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. All possible donors are urged to join the turnout.

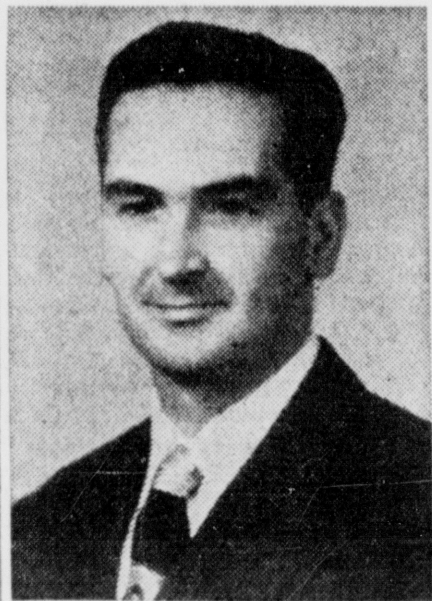

Spokesmen for the Red Cross blood program have frequently stressed that "walk-ins"—those who do not have an appointment but decide to come anyway—will always be welcome. Other donors are asked to remember their appointments.

Blood program leaders said Tuesday that unfounded optimism very often reduces the size of the turnout, and at a time when the local region continues to face a critical blood shortage.

"Too many prospective donors go the idea we don't need them," a Red Cross official explained, "when actually we never have too many donors for any one visit."

Rev. Carl Zehner

Rev. Zehner Set To Head Clergy Group

The Rev. Carl Zehner, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, has been elected new president of the Pickaway County Ministerial Association. He heads a list of incoming officers who will assume their year-long duties in June.

The Rev. Emerson Abts, of the Ashville Methodist Church, is vice-president. The Rev. Dale Frueling, of the Nazarene Church will serve as secretary, and the treasurer's post will be taken over by the Rev. Charles Reed, of the First Methodist Church.

During the month of May, the Rev. Melvin Maxwell, of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, will assist the Rev. Jack Bennett, of St. Philip's Church, as chaplain at Berger Hospital. The Rev. Donald Mitchell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will serve as chaplain at the S. Scioto St. rest home.

Plans were discussed at the Tuesday meeting to outline the Fall release time religious education program in the public schools. Tentative dates for the program are to be from the first week in October until Easter.

The clergymen expressed the hope that the program would be as successful next Fall and Winter as it was this past year.

Mine Roof Falls Taking Big Toll

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Mines said today that roof falls in coal mines caused 27 per cent more deaths during the first three months of 1956 than in the corresponding months of 1955.

James Westfield, assistant director for health and safety, said the increase was "especially alarming" and appealed for greater cooperation in the fight to minimize hazards.

Bureau statistics showed there were 121 coal mine fatalities during the first quarter of 1956, compared with 115 a year ago. They also showed that falling rock and coal killed 79 of the 111 miners who died underground during the first three months of this year.

White House Said Urging Dewey To Run For Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House aides were reported active today in efforts to persuade former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Ambassador John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky to run for the Senate.

There is no evidence President Eisenhower himself has taken a hand as he did in nudging former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay into Oregon's primary race.

But some party strategists said they have been approached by Eisenhower associates with suggestions that Dewey might be convinced he ought to undertake the New York senatorial race if certain conditions were met.

One of these was said to be assurances from members of the old Taft wing of the party that Dewey would have their support if he ran and that he would not be relegated to a back-seat Senate role if he won.

Dewey generally is credited with helping engineer Eisenhower's defeat of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

REP. TAYLOR (R-NY) has predicted Eisenhower may ask Dewey to seek the GOP senatorial nomination. Dewey said he hadn't heard of it. So did White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerity. Dewey has insisted he has no plans to get back into politics.

McKay has said pressure for him to get into the Oregon Senate race came from GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall and Eisenhower's No. 1 assistant, Sherman Adams.

'Bama Governor Loses In State Delegate Poll

Adlai Leading Estes In District Columbia Democratic Balloting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama apparently had lost a Democratic primary fight for a national committeeman post today, while Adlai Stevenson was winning a District of Columbia primary clash with Estes Kefauver.

Incomplete returns from the Alabama Democratic primary election showed Folsom trailing by a 3-1 margin behind State Rep. Charles W. McKay, an outspoken segregationist. Folsom has been denying numerous accusations by critics that he is "soft" on the racial issue.

Sen. Lister Hill was running far ahead of John G. Crommelin in his bid for renomination. Only two of the state's nine-man congressional delegation were opposed for another term. Democratic nomination means election in Alabama.

Alabama Democrats also picked a 26-vote delegation to the party's national convention. The delegation will go to the convention unpledged to any candidate.

In the District of Columbia, where residents were voting in a primary for the first time in 82 years, a counting snarl developed that shoved a final tabulation into the indefinite future. "At least three or four days" was an official estimate for a final count.

A SLATE OF Democratic delegates pledged to Stevenson had a wide early lead over one pledged to Kefauver.

Each party will send six votes to its respective convention, but District residents will not participate in the November general election.

District Republicans had a factional fight going in their convention delegation contest, but all candidates were pledged to President.

Youthful Slayer Ruled To Be Sane

EATON (AP)—A 17-year-old boy, accused of slaying his foster parents, has been declared legally sane by a panel of psychiatrists.

The boy, Kenneth Bowman, was returned yesterday to the Preble County jail. His trial on two counts of first-degree murder is expected to start May 14.

Bowman is accused of shooting Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bowman of near West Alexandria, last Sept. 4 and then burning their bodies.

The bodies were found in the Bowman automobile along a highway, and the youth told authorities at that time the couple died as the result of an accident.

City Engineer Favors Stronger Policy On Curb-Gutter Projects

Circleville's new city engineer suggested to the municipal lawmakers Tuesday night that something be done to put some law and order into curb and gutter work throughout the community.

Orrin C. Stout, who has succeeded Harry Griner as city engineer, pointed out that the age-old system of "piecemeal" curb and gutter construction makes for maintenance headaches and detracts from the beauty of local streets. He suggested that the city set up a strict policy of having the work done by streets, when that is feasible, or at least by blocks.

The current arrangement under which the curbs and gutters are usually placed as individual projects by the property owners, Stout declared, "goes back to the oxcart days." The subject revived by Stout is an old one in council sessions, but no clear-cut policy has yet been agreed upon for city-wide application.

Stout's views drew prompt support from City Service Director Dewey Speakman, who said city maintenance and drainage is often made much more difficult because the curb and gutter work is handled by so many people, and with so little regard for the appearance of the streets.

STOUT stressed that he made his suggestion only in the way of well-intended criticism. Actually, he pointed out, he could make a great deal more money personally by assisting on the small "piecemeal" jobs when hired to do so. The city engineer works only on part-time basis.

Stout mentioned in particular the "shabby" appearance of some streets in the Northend because of disorganized curb and gutter planning.

In the discussion that followed, City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins reminded council that the municipality already has a legal right to enforce more coordination in such work. And the city likewise can put in curbs and gutters itself and put the costs on the tax duplicate, he added.

Most of the councilmen voiced agreement with Stout's views, but no specific steps were taken for the time being.

Robbins cautioned council that any widespread move to put in curbs and gutters by assessment—having the property owners "chip in" certain amounts to meet the costs—would fall unless it had determination behind it. He cited an instance involving such a move for a Northend neighborhood.

"The residents balked at the assessments, and came in here and protested," Robbins recalled. "And when they did so, you gentlemen decided to do something else."

SOME cities, Robbins noted, do not permit property owners to put in curbs and gutters. As a rigid policy, he said, such cities handle the work and then put the cost on the tax duplicate.

Councilman Harold Clifton said he favors some form of "determined start" along the lines urged by the city engineer.

Lebanon, Syria Seeking Pledge From Israel

Jewish Plan To Divert Jordan River Is Center Of Holy Land Dispute

JERUSALEM (AP)—Lebanon lined up formally with Syria today in refusing to pledge a cease-fire with Israel unless the Israelis promise not to divert the Jordan River.

Israel was reported to have already turned down the Syrian demand for such a pledge. The Jordan flows through Israel and Jordan and part of it closely approaches Syria.

Syria and Jordan, backed by the other Arab countries, have said they would consider resumption of work on a diversion canal by Israel an act of aggression. The canal, for power and irrigation, was started in a demilitarized zone between Lake Huleh and the Sea of Galilee, near the Syrian line.

Lebanon's condition for a cease-fire agreement was conveyed in a note to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold as he prepared to leave Jerusalem for Damascus and last-minute talks with Syrian leaders on the water dispute. The Lebanese communication added urgency to his appeal to Syria for an unconditional cease-fire.

LEBANON'S action was regarded as significant chiefly for the added support it gives Syria, since only minor border incidents have occurred on the Israel-Lebanon frontier.

Lebanese Foreign Minister Salim Lahoud said in his message that Lebanon supports Syria in demanding a written pledge that Israel will not resume work on the Jordan River project. He also said Lebanon reserves the right of self-defense against any Israeli attack.

Hammarskjold had planned to leave today for Rome to prepare his report for the U. N. Security Council on his Middle East peace mission.

Before taking off for Damascus he and the chief U. N. truce supervisor, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, met again with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett.

The Jordan, which flows through both Syria and Israel, has long been a point of dispute between Israel and the Arab states.

Israel halted work on a water division canal in late 1953 after a Syrian complaint to the Security Council and a request for suspension by the U. N. truce supervisor. Israel has said she will not delay her own plans indefinitely if the Arabs do not go along with a U. S. proposal for a joint river development project.

Israeli officials said, meanwhile, a government investigation was continuing into the interception by Israeli aircraft of an Egyptian-chartered plane of the Royal Dutch Airline, KLM.

The KLM Dakota was forced to land yesterday at Israel's Lydda Airport.

"HOLSTER FOR COWBOY WITH SWEET TOOTH"

A lot of people have a Sweet Tooth but there was a fellow I grew up with named Floyd Boone who was the only kid I ever heard of with a Sour Tooth. Floyd had a terrible craving for stuff like Dill Pickles and Lemons. When other kids would head for the drug store to get sodas or sundaes Floyd would go to the grocery store and get himself a couple green apples and a pint of Vinegar. Anything sour he liked. He always kept a ripe persimmon in his pocket just for emergencies, and as you probably guessed Floyd was considered an "odd ball" by the rest of us kids. Especially the girls. They refused to get within 20 feet of him because he was always puckered up.

Ohio Democrats Set For Dinner To Raise Funds

$50 Jefferson Affair Due Thursday; Much High Oratory Expected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Democrats will pay $50 for a $6 dinner and a lot of oratory Thursday night to help swell party campaign coffers.

Those shelling out for the Jefferson-Jackson affair also will get a close-up look at the wives of primary election candidates who will share the speakers' platform.

Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee, youngest state chief executive, will be the main speaker. But his wife, widely known for her beauty, may prove to be an equal attraction.

State headquarters expects to set some 500 guests in the Neil House ballroom and net between $15,000 and $20,000. But half the proceeds will go to national headquarters to apply on the state unit's obligation to the party.

National Chairman Paul M. Butler has reported the state organization some $90,000 behind in its national obligation based on a quota system.

Co-chairmen for the banquet are Albert A. Horstman of Dayton, veteran national committeeman, and Eugene H. Hanhart of Dover, state executive committee head.

Former Lt. Gov. George D. Nye of Waverly is expected for the role of toastmaster. Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus will welcome the party faithful.

Gov. and Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, back from a California visit that spurred talk of the governor's presidential prospects, will share the spotlight.

Clement and his party plan to reach Columbus in the afternoon by private plane.

Ohio became the 35th state to petition the U.S. Supreme Court to reconsider its April 2 ruling that states may not punish persons for sedition.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill added his name to those of other attorneys general protesting the decision holding that federal legislation superseded state laws. Ohio has had anti-sedition laws on its books for years.

The Supreme Court threw out the sedition conviction of Communist leader Steve Nelson in a state court under Pennsylvania's sedition law. Attorneys said the ruling pulled the teeth of state sedition laws, regardless of whether they purport to supplement federal statutes.

Local Commercial Fishing Lake Scheduled To Open This Month

There was good news today for local fishermen, and all the others who thrill to the outdoor life. Elmon Richards and his son, William, both of Circleville, have completed a commercial fishing lake that will soon be ready for the Isaac Walton.

The lake is located on the Canal Road, 1½ mile south of the junction of state routes 22 and 56 west. The fishing spot, which is expected to draw anglers from all over the district, will be known as "Scioto Valley Lake."

Spring water will cover about three acres.

UNDER PRESENT plans, the lake will be opened to the public around the middle of this month. It will be stocked with large walleyes, pike, catfish, bass, bluegills and crappies.

District sportsmen hailed the announcement with enthusiasm. It will be the first time a venture of this type has ever been launched within the district surrounding Circleville.

Outdoor groups will join fishermen at the spot. A picnic grounds is being laid out in the vicinity.

Newest Farm Bill Expected To Be Voted On Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House called up for debate today a new farm bill which its Democratic sponsor contends should satisfy President Eisenhower and not invite another veto.

Its main provision is Eisenhower's soil bank program, but without authority he asked to pay as much as $500 million this year to farmers who agree to withdraw surplus-producing acres from cash crops in 1957.

Republican efforts to add advance payment authority shaped up as the issue likely to touch off a new partisan floor fight. They planned to offer several other proposed changes as well.

Debate was scheduled to begin late today, with voting not due until tomorrow.

On lesser points of difference, compromises were expected to be offered which could send the Senate this latest of a series of farm measures this session.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee called the soil bank advance payment idea "a bad thing."

HE SAID "the Republicans are

Utah Governor Believes U.S. Ducking Trial

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Utah's Gov. J. Bracken Lee has accused the federal government of trying to duck a court test of the constitutionality of using income taxes to finance its foreign aid program.

He made the accusation yesterday after the Internal Revenue Service slapped liens on his property to collect the $1,203.10 it says he owes in income taxes. The liens didn't have to be procured in court.

The Republican governor says he is refusing to pay the tax in hopes of winning a court test of the government's right to spend tax money for foreign aid.

"As matters stand, a citizen seemingly has no means to test a constitutional question on government spending, despite the fact our government derives its powers from the people," he said.

He said the Internal Revenue Service "has been vested with more power than any governmental agency should have."

The governor indicated he may take the question to court himself, possibly by seeking a court order to set aside the liens.

Internal Revenue officials had no comment.

Priest, Friend Found Slain In Apartment

CHICAGO (AP)—The bodies of a Russian Orthodox priest and a divorcee who sang in his church's choir were found in the woman's apartment yesterday.

Police said the Rev. Michael M. Lanoske, 51, married and the father of four children, apparently had shot and killed Miss Anna Marchezak, 44, and then killed himself. A coroner termed the deaths murder and suicide.

The bodies were discovered by an apartment tenant who visited Miss Marchezak's rooms when she failed to leave for her job at a factory.

Lanoske, police said, had been an assistant pastor for the past five years at the Holy Resurrection Church, a Carpatho-Russian Orthodox sect.

Lanoske had been shot once in the temple. A .25 caliber pistol was found near his body. The woman had been shot in the chest. Both bodies were nude.

Police said Lanoske had been ousted seven years ago as pastor of another church when Miss Marchezak's former husband Stephen Yurschak, 51, filed a divorce suit charging his wife with misconduct with a "John Doe." Yurschak later filed a $100,000 love theft suit against Lanoske.

Yurschak, who was divorced in 1951, said his ex-wife was a member of the choir when she and Lanoske began having an affair.

Floods In Texas Take Four Lives

DALLAS (AP)—Raging streams that have claimed at least four lives threatened further flood damage in Texas today as laden skies continued to dump more water over a wide section.

The greatest flood danger appeared to be at Brownwood where rains ranging up to 12 inches sent water nearly 6 feet deep over the spillway of Lake Brownwood dam.

Approximately 250 persons have been evacuated from their homes there. As rain continued early this morning, National Guard Capt. Russell Miller said "if this continues, the worst is yet to come."

Marine Corps Shakeup Gets Pentagon OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon officials say they believe the Marine Corps has taken the necessary steps to prevent any more incidents like the drowning of six recruits on a night disciplinary march at Parris Island, S. C.

Secretary of Defense Wilson said yesterday he thinks "the best possible solution was worked out and I hope it will be accepted by everybody."

Secretary of the Navy Thomas said he was confident orders issued by Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant, "will prevent the recurrence of a tragic incident of this kind."

Earlier in the day, Pate reported to the House Armed Services Committee that, in the wake of a corps inquiry into the drownings last month, he had reorganized the training command, ordered closer supervision of non-commissioned drill instructors, and shifted Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, commander at the Parris Island boot camp, to Camp Lejeune, N. C., where there is no recruit training.

The Marines have recommended the court-martial trial of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon of Worcester, Mass., on four charges, including manslaughter. McKeon, a World War II and Korean War veteran, ordered the night march that ended in disaster. The inquiry court found he was under the influence of vodka at the time of the unauthorized march.

Exact World Size Found By Experts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army map scientists said today new studies indicate the earth's circumference is about half a mile smaller than previously believed.

In a report prepared for the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union, the map service scientists said the equatorial radius of the earth (the distance from its center to the equator) is 6,375,336 yards or 140 yards less than the figure generally accepted since 1909. This would make the world 24,902 miles around at its widest point.

Approximately 250 persons have been evacuated from their homes there. As rain continued early this morning, National Guard Capt. Russell Miller said "if this continues, the worst is yet to come."

Final Showdown On Rezoning Delayed Month

Councilman Richard Penn stressed the fact for all concerned that the resolution up for action did not represent final action on the rezoning request. Councilman Boyd Horn then urged more delay. He said:

"I DON'T like to jump into this right away. Can't we hold this over for another night? There are a lot of things to be ironed out."

"I know some things on this that would hurt one side and some things that would hurt the other. We need more time, to reach a little more of an understanding."

Horn's fellow lawmakers reminded him that the action on hand was not final as far as the rezoning ordinance is concerned. And meanwhile Clifton renewed his idea "if we don't intend to pass the ordinance, the resolution won't be necessary."

Robbins, in the course of this discussion, explained that the lawmakers could "kill the whole thing" by failing to adopt the (advertising) resolution.

But when the vote came a moment later on the resolution, all seven of the councilmen voted to have the ordinance advertised, thus delaying council's showdown for at least a month.

Aside From Measure On Rezoning, Lawmakers Agree Easily

Widening Work Moving Ahead On S. Pickaway

City Is Preparing Street Repairs In Northend Section

Except for the controversial move to rezone a Northend area to clear the way for a shopping center, Cincinnati's lawmakers had little trouble in reaching agreement on current business when city council met Tuesday night.

The city planning and zoning commission returned the rezoning proposal to council after being asked for its opinion on the move. The planning group recommended against it.

Council is not expected to act on the matter for at least 30 days. (See separate story)

AFTER THE lawmakers discussed the rezoning ordinance, they turned their attention to sewer improvement studies now under way by the firm of Burgess and Niple, Columbus engineering consultants. The firm is already drawing up plans and estimates for the city on a sanitary sewer project that covers a wide area of the Northend. And council decided to have the same firm undertake similar preliminary work on proposed storm sewers.

Next in line was a three section ordinance to appropriate money for repairs to the city building, filing fees met in the course of a storm sewer project in the Rosewood addition, and expenses to be met in the widening of S. Pickaway St.

The street widening job has been discussed in council off and on for many months. City Solicitor Kenneth Robbins has been representing the city in efforts to speed the project.

The ordinance Tuesday night allocated $2,760.25 for payment to Joanna Bowers for land taken and damages done to her premises, located at 1215 S. Pickaway St. Robbins told the lawmakers how a house-moving job is under way as part of the project.

Councilman Dudley Carpenter asked for information on other sections of the measure. Chairman George Crites of the finance committee explained that no appropriate tion had been made for repairs found necessary at the city building. He also explained the need of $100 to pay for the routine filing fees, for the recording of easements for storm sewers.

The three-part fund transfer ordinance was passed on first reading.

***

NEXT legislation was an ordinance for the improving and resurfacing of Sunset Drive, Lewis Road, George Road and Lone Pine Road, all located in a Northend area where residents have complained frequently about street and surface water conditions.

The ordinance, also passed on first reading, authorized City Service Director Dewey Speakman to advertise for bids on the work.

Councilman Harold Clifton then submitted to council a petition in which residents at the end of E. High St. asked for an estimate of costs for a sanitary sewer project. Under the proposal outlined, a sanitary sewer line would be constructed to link that section with the Bloomdale addition.

Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick said residents of the area are very anxious to have the work done, "but haven't the least idea as to what it would cost."

Several of the lawmakers pointed out that the job could easily be done if the residents are willing to pay assessments for the work. Service Director Speakman said the requested cost estimates should be available soon.

At this point in the meeting, Clifton asked to have an ordinance dealing with "the Civil Defense director's salary brought off the table" and considered by council. However, Clerk of Council Fred Nicholas did not have such a measure and it was agreed to postpone the action until next meeting.

SOME MEMBERS of the law-making body said the legislation referred to was "tabled several weeks ago." None of those present, however, appeared to know what became of the typewritten copy.

Shortly before adjournment, council drifted into a discussion on ways and means to regulate curb and gutter construction jobs in many sections of the city. Lack of a rigid policy on such jobs, it was agreed, has led to unsightly curb lines in many locations.

Berets For Army? Solon Is Aghast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is thinking of outfitting its troops with berets, but the idea already has one Congress member aghast.

Army Quartermaster officers told the House Appropriations Committee that the Army has "under study" proposals to outfit all troops in green berets.

Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) said he thought berets might be good moral builders for special units like paratroopers, "but not GI berets for the whole Army." "I think it is fine to have a hot-shot outfit wearing it, but I will have something to say before they break out the Army in berets," Flood declared.

tions to one month and chief judges may have to step aside when they reach 70. These were among proposals discussed here at a special session of the Judicial Conference, composed of the chief justice of the United States and the chief judges of the circuit courts of appeals. A report was made public Tuesday.

Last Snowfall Worth Top Cash

MENOMINEE, Mich. (AP)—It snowed pennies from heaven in Menominee County—a million of them. The unusual 4.2 inch fall in this Upper Peninsula area Sunday brought the year's total to 60.3 inches. That's just more than the 60-inch minimum required to qualify for $10,000 in state aid for snow removal next year.

Veterinary Corps Horse Roster Dips

HIROSHIMA MAIDENS

IN A WORLD where happy endings too often occur only in books, the story of the Hiroshima Maidens is heartwarming.

These are 25 girls whose faces were frightfully burned and disfigured by the bursting of the first atom bomb in history, at Hiroshima, Japan. Ten years after that fatal date they were brought to America for plastic surgery by a group of citizens who had become acquainted with their tragic case. More than 30,000 Americans made donations to the project.

At a recent reception at the Japanese Embassy in Washington, D. C., friends had a chance to see the outcome of this experiment in human compassion and international goodwill.

Their doctor said, "They are changed people in more senses than one. We think the results have been remarkable."

A woman interpreter for the group added, "They were disillusioned girls with no hopes for the future. Now, you see, they can laugh again."

Quite as important as the help that has been given these particular girls is that it provides hope for thousands of others who cannot come to America. Although plans are not definite, at least two cities have asked that other groups be sent here for plastic surgery.

RADIO EDITORIALS

A NEW YORK radio station is starting a weekly feature called "The Editor's Desk," a 15-minute show, which it says is designed to stimulate public thinking on current issues. There will be a three-minute editorial given in the name of the station and the balance of the time will be spent excerpting editorials from local newspapers and reading portions of letters sent in by listeners on various subjects.

The task this station has undertaken is immense. Unless it slants the program leftward, it will come in for all sorts of attacks from "liberals." A great handicap the station will be working under arises from the nature of the medium — the spoken word. When a newspaper publishes an opinion on a certain subject, it remains there until the paper yellows and the ink fades. The reader can go back, and back still again.

But the spoken word is a fleeting thing and few people have the capacity for taking it all in and remembering it precisely. Some people may think they hear it one way. Some will be sure they heard it another. There will be a great many who will demand to hear the tape recordings of what was said to prove or disprove a point.

With those weddings out of the way, the country has settled down to its unromantic duties again.

There are so many clouds in the world today it will be surprising if the word drought isn't dropped from vocabularies.

Communist Daily Worker in New York City, in addition to tax harassments, is also having trouble digesting the denunciation of Stalin. Cuds supplied by the Kremlin are often nasty for other Ivans, too.

Yes Men Cry 'Nyet' Now

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The Russians have a wonderful phrase for their equivalent for the Hollywood "Yes Man." They call him a "Hallelujah Man."

He shouts the glories of the boss. In his eyes whatever the boss does it not only OK, it's wonderful.

The term "Yes Man" has long been one of contempt in America, where the breed has by no means been confined to Hollywood but flourished in all walks of life. It symbolizes a spineless creature, the worm that never turns, that is always looking ahead for an angle by which to curry favor in the eyes of his superior.

There are signs now that the old "Hallelujah Man" is falling in some disfavor in Russia, a land in which it has been risky to say "no" for a long, long time.

Over the weekend A. N. Shlepin, secretary of the Young Communist League, spoke out strongly against the Soviet's "Hallelujah Men."

He blamed the "Hallelujah Men" for raising the late and

George E. Sokolsky's
These Days

Nikita Khrushchev, in his famous speech at the 20th Congress of the Communist Party, made a most interesting and correct statement:

"The main feature of our epoch is the emergence of socialism from within the bounds of a single country and its transformation into a world system. Capitalism has proved powerless to hinder this process of world-wide historic significance. . ."

The spread of socialism has been due to many causes, not the least of which were two world wars, to which we may add the world-wide economic depression that started in 1921, the fall of many established institutions such as the Austro-Hungarian Empire and the general fears and insecurities arising from these conditions.

Socialism, in one form or another, has spread until it now encompasses nearly half of the human race. For instance, Norway, which we think of as a capitalist country, is in reality a socialist country although its socialism is vastly different from that of Soviet Russia or China. The British Labour Party, which is a socialist party, had, during its years in power, socialized about 20 percent of Great Britain's economy and it has not been possible for the Conservatives, now in power, to change back altogether.

Even in the United States, the economic system cannot be regarded as wholly capitalistic as the government guarantees nearly all sectors of the economy against possible losses. A free enterprise without risk is not free just as profits without the possibility of loss can only lead to excess and wasteful production and to incompetent management. Ours can be called a mixed system which simultaneously contains elements that are both capitalistic and socialistic. The pull is naturally in the direction of increasing socialism because government subsidies tend to increase monopolies and monopolies destroy private enterprise.

Soviet Russia, according to Khrushchev, means to facilitate the increase of socialism and anticipates that more and more countries will become socialistic. By mutual planning among these socialistic countries, it will no longer be necessary for each to make whatever is needed. He says of this:

"... Now, when there is a powerful community of socialist countries whose defense potential and security is based on the industrial might of the entire socialist camp, each European People's Democracy can specialize in developing those industries and producing those goods for which it has the most favorable natural and economic conditions. . ."

On this basis, he reports that Russia is aiding other countries to build 391 enterprises and more than 90 workshops and installations. Russia has granted these other countries long-term credits of 21 billion rubles. In a word, the socialist world is organizing a grid of mutually-serving industrial operations, based upon Russian aid which is designed to serve the socialist or ex-colonial countries. Whereas the amount is smaller than American contributions under the Marshall Plan and the various Mutual Security Plans, the results have been satisfactory to Russia.

It is to be noted that the socialist countries do not engage in give-away programs, but always exact an exchange of some kind. It is fatuous to say that the United States must give away its aid because it wants for nothing. We are, for instance, importing uranium and other minerals and metals.

Passport to Happiness
By MAYSIE GREIG

SYNOPSIS
Mrs. May Featherstone, wealthy English dowager, recognizes a passenger and senses trouble as she boards the "S.S. Caribbean" bound from England to Jamaica. Valerie Allison, a pretty, red-haired nurse, and Dirk Hanson, who was engaged to Mrs. Featherstone's daughter, Bileen, at the time of her death in an auto accident, accompany her. Val is earning her passage by caring for Mrs. Featherstone, an invalid by imaginary illness. Dirk is overly attentive to Mrs. Featherstone, hoping to be considered in her will. Bileen's earlier romance had been broken up by her mother, and her lover later becomes a doctor. Mrs. Featherstone becomes ill, but refuses to see the ship's surgeon. Val meets the man that Mrs. Featherstone had noticed among the passengers—Bruce Harridan—and he is now in the uniform of the ship's surgeon. Val learns that they will both be working on the same line when they reach Montego Bay after the voyage. She also learns that Dr. Harridan was Bileen's lover, and that he had threatened to kill Mrs. Featherstone at the time she wrecked their romance. Dirk and Val become good friends but Mrs. Featherstone resents Dirk's attentions to Val. Dr. Harridan tells Val that he threatened Mrs. Featherstone in a fit of rage, and would now like to apologize to her. Val becomes strongly attracted to Dr. Harridan. When Dr. Harridan insists Dirk did not love Bileen and was only after her mother's money, Val becomes annoyed at him.

CHAPTER 11
WITH A faint sense of inward derision, Val mentally tipped her cap to Dirk. When she went back into her patient's cabin, not only was Mrs. Featherstone apparently delighted that Dirk and Val should dine together, but she insisted that Val should dress up for the occasion.

It would be fun to get out of uniform for a change, and since a friend of Val's in London was a mannequin, sometimes she was able to get her clothes the girls had worn at shows at greatly reduced prices.

Even Mrs. Featherstone looked impressed when she came back into her cabin wearing a lovely floating gown.

"My, you do look lovely, child," she murmured almost involuntarily.

Val, delighted at the praise, turned slowly so that her employer could better appreciate the gown. For the first time in their association she hadn't called Val "Nurse." Surprisingly she added, "Take my white mink cape. You may be cold if you're going to be on the deck."

"That's awfully kind of you, Mrs. Featherstone."

"Not at all. Not at all. I'd like to think of you wearing it. You look beautiful tonight, my dear, really beautiful."

Val thanked her warmly. What had happened to Mrs. Featherstone?

The sudden change to reasonably good weather seemed to have brought almost everyone out of their cabins. The lounge was crowded and most of the passengers had dressed for dinner.

Dirk was leaning against the bar waiting for her, all and thin, immaculately dressed as ever, the ideal partner for glamorous hotel dining rooms and fashionable night clubs. She was quite sure that Dirk would command the headwaiter's full attention when you arrived with him; that is, if he could afford to take you there.

He saw her standing hesitant in the doorway and came quickly toward her. He caught both her hands and stood a moment looking at her.

"Well, well, so fairy tales do come true," he said.

"The transformation is aided by borrowed plumes," she said. "Mrs. Featherstone's white mink cape."

She ran her fingers lingeringly down the sides of the cape. "Something even movie stars don't sniff at."

"Oh, Aunt May does herself proud in the matter of clothes," he said, and went on, "but of course Aunt May's really loaded."

She ceased smiling and the precious sense of gaiety she'd had recently died.

"Is that how you feel about Mrs. Featherstone?" she asked quietly.

"Hey, hey, what is all this?" he said, giving her a quizzical look.

"Are you accusing me of playing up to Aunt May for ulterior motives?" His gray eyes looked down into her face, half accusing, half reproachful.

"I don't mean to infer anything," she said quickly.

"That's not good enough. Come along over to the bar and we'll thrash this situation out." His voice was no longer light.

"I should have been going to take me for a walk on deck," she suggested.

"All right, let's get a dose of ozone and then we'll come back in here and settle the argument."

"I didn't know there was an argument," she said as he held the door open for her to pass through out onto the deck.

Val stepped out beside him, loving the brush of the wind against her face. Tonight the moonlight glowed on the waves; waves no longer angry but comparatively gentle. She didn't even mind when Dirk slid his hand through hers under the mink cape, or when his fingers pressed into the soft warm flesh of her arm. But her sense of enchantment with the moonlight night died swiftly as Dirk began to talk.

"You think I'm hanging around a rich woman for no other reason than that I was briefly, very briefly, engaged to her daughter, hoping she will leave me something. That is what Bruce Harridan told you this afternoon, isn't it?" His voice had suddenly sharpened to a challenge.

"You knew I saw Doctor Harridan this afternoon?"

"I knew," he said.

"And you're trying to tell me you've no interest in my patient's money?" she asked.

"I won't pretend I've no interest in her money, for you wouldn't believe me if I did." He smiled slightly. "But on the other hand, I say, and you must believe this, Val, I'd try and be as decent as I'm being to Aunt May if she hadn't a penny. You see, she has no one but me."

"But you said the other day that she had relatives," Val murmured.

He gave a short laugh. "They loathe her, and she loathes them. Naturally they'd be pleased to accept her money when she dies. But luckily I don't think she'll die for a very long time. Although she thinks she has a bad heart, I don't believe it, do you?" He'd stopped walking abruptly.

"Do you?" He repeated it, and added irritably, "For Heaven's sake, say exactly what you think, Val!"

Too Much Excitement's Harmful For Heart Case

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

HEART patients must be careful in choosing entertainment. If you've got a heart disease and the old ticker is not what it should be, television and radio listening should be censured. Unduly exciting stories or programs should be avoided.

Impaired Circulation
Coronary thrombosis, you must understand, is caused by impaired circulation. Strong emotional feelings like excitement and fear mean more work for your heart and sometimes tend to hinder circulation. They place an even greater load on the already weakened organ. It takes effort to produce emotional stress. You know that yourself. Frequently you can feel your heart pounding during moments of excitement. When you experience strong emotion you can often actually feel a tingling in your scalp as though your hair were standing on end. Your breathing may become quick, your muscles become tense and your glands produce more products. Even your blood runs faster. Your arteries, too, demand extra exertion from your heart. If this emotion is fear, your adrenal glands get your body ready for a fight by producing various secretions.

Your blood vessels are constricted, or made narrower, by one of these glandular secretions and your heart is forced to beat harder. This, of course, boosts your blood pressure.

Extra Load
Therefore, you develop two things you must avoid—increased blood pressure and constricted blood vessels. You can easily see that both put an extra load on your heart. But a person with heart disease must do more than avoid exciting books, radio and TV programs. You should try to avoid any exciting situation. Naturally, this rules out arguments. So stay on friendly terms with your spouse and you're likely to live longer. Above all, follow the advice of your doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
T. V.: What is osteoporosis and how can it be treated?
Answer: Osteoporosis is the loss of vital minerals, particularly calcium, of bones. It may occur with old age, with disuse of a limb and in women passing through the menopause. Usually, a combination of male and female hormones, along with an adequate diet and calcium and phosphorus preparation, will correct this condition.

Businessmen Study Status After April

Some Of Them Find 'Month Of Showers' Rather Disappointing

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—May finds many businessmen again reassessing their prospects because for some of them April was disappointing.

It has been a year of wide swings in business sentiment. At the start they were cautious about expecting too much of 1956. Then along in March there was a quick shift to swelling confidence in the future of trade and industry.

Now there are some sober second thoughts. April didn't bring the gains that some industries expected.

Some of the big retail chains report a drop in sales. The auto industry is cutting back output still farther as cars fail to move out of the dealers' hands as hoped.

The weather gets much of the blame. In the eastern third of the nation April was unseasonably wet and cold. In other parts of the land there was a disturbing drought.

Farmers, already hit by a drop in prices for their products, now face the chance of a drop in production as well — with government surpluses acting as a ceiling on any substantial price rises.

Farm machinery makers, helped in many instances by defense production, reported good earnings in the first months of the year. But their sales to income-pinch farmers are lagging now.

If May brings better weather, aids the farmers, spurs car buyers sends more customers into the stores for spring and summer goods, the picture could change to general confidence again.

As it is, many industries are booming while the others falter. Construction totals are up, bolstered by business spending for new plants, new commercial and office structures, as well as a growing total of public construction of roads, schools and hospitals.

Larger and more expensive homes are being built, and better weather may start total residential building on the upgrade again.

The railroads got a freight rate hike in March and start May with increased passenger fares — accounting for the increased interest in rail stocks.

The steel industry continues to operate near capacity — but with sentiment divided as to how much of a let down, if any, the summer will see.

May could also reveal more clearly how much inventory building is being done by steel users, how great a chance there is of a strike this summer, how much wages and prices are likely to rise — and what's the chance of this setting a pattern for other industries.

Inflation, meanwhile, is likely to be the big debating point of the month. Slowing rising prices of most things other than food, and a continuing strong demand for loans, make investors, lenders, borrowers and the money managers nervous.

Model Policeman Held As Burglar

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Police-man Milo Ploof was assigned to a downtown beat because Chief Wyatt Brigg said, "You have to have someone you can trust around those big stores."

Then Ray Roe, assistant chief, staked out in a department store where several thefts have occurred recently. Early Tuesday he said, a man let himself into the store with a passkey.

Roe arrested and booked on suspicion of burglary model policeman Milo Ploof.

Used Auto Given With New Washer

AKRON (AP)—An appliance dealer here is offering a free used car to every purchaser of a new automatic washing machine.

The Beacon Co. said 40 cars had been given away already and that the offer would stand.

The cars, 1946 to 1950 models, are in working order. Beacon pays the tax and title transfer.

The customer can pay as little as $10 down and $2.50 a week for the washer, Beacon said.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My mother-in-law hasn't had her own home in 20 years. And two years ago she came to stay with us. She has no outside interests, and lives only for her five children and many grandchildren. Our three children are married now, and established elsewhere.

In all the time she has been with us, people who telephone to talk with her ask for her either as Grandmother, or Mother, or Jane — her first name. In the inner circle that is her life, she has no occasion to be called Mrs. Doe, by those who telephone our residence.

Even so, when the telephone rings and she answers it, and someone asks "Mrs. Doe?" she answers "Yes." Then the speaker goes into his or her subject, and when it's time for Mrs. Doe's response, Mother says, "Oh, I guess you want my daughter-in-law." She, too, is Mrs. Doe, I grant, but in the circumstances, shouldn't she identify herself as NOT the lady of the house, right off?

I would appreciate your comments; perhaps they will give all of us a hint on how to solve the problem. Fortunately there is no interference in our marriage as such; and even my husband, whom I adore, considers our partnership first.

DEAR K. P.: It is safe to say that your mother-in-law knows she is sailing under false colors, momentarily, when she encourages a telephone voice to address her as (this) Mrs. Doe. But curiosity gets the best of her, I suppose, so she proceeds indirectly to elicit as much information as she can about the caller's purpose, before stepping aside.

A familiar trait of thoughtless elderly persons, whose life narrows down to family, has to do with wanting to keep posted on everybody's business in the household. And most people instinctively clam up, or back away, in the presence of busy inquisitiveness. Hence the elderly person's hunger for vicarious sharing of others' experience may present a behavior problem.

In general, the wholesome way to reduce irritations in family life is to "spot" the trouble, in friendly spirit. Don't skulk around it. Thus about the telephone, you might say, for example: "Mother, it bothers me when you take calls as Mrs. Doe, and then I have to step up and go through the whole story again. It happens all the time; and it isn't fair to people who are trying to reach the housewife at this address. It puts us all in bad humor; gets us off on the wrong foot," etc. Then ask her to identify herself as "the other Mrs. Doe" when the question comes up.

M. H.
Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

PUCO Grants Power Utility Hike In Rates

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has granted the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. a $145,800 rate increase for the company's rural subscribers in 21 counties.

The company had asked permission to charge rates that are now paid by its rural subscribers in Franklin County.

A commission spokesman said the increase makes rates uniform throughout the company's southeast and northern rural territory. A $114,400 increase will be paid by the company's subscribers in southeastern rural territory, while northern rural customers will pay increases totaling $31,400.

The counties affected: Adams, Athens, Brown, Delaware, Fayette, Gallia, Meigs, Pickaway, Ross, Vinton, Highland, Hocking, Jackson, Knox, Lawrence, Licking, Madison, Morgan, Pike, Scioto and Washington.

The commission ruled that the company was not realizing an adequate return on its investment.

A commission spokesman said the company's rate of return in its southeastern area will be 1.41 per cent. The rate of return will be 1.94 per cent in the north.

Shaker Heights Ups Teacher Pay

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three hundred teachers in suburban Shaker Heights yesterday won raises totaling $50,000 a year.

Adams County Hunt For Woman Halted

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP)—An unsuccessful search for a 65-year-old woman at nearby Manchester was halted Tuesday night.

More than 200 persons searched a five-square mile area and two airplanes scouted over the area for Mrs. Wavia Foster, last seen near a sawmill Tuesday morning. Adams County Sheriff Eugene Fulton said Mrs. Foster's son, Paul Foster, teacher and coach at Manchester high school reported the woman's disappearance.

The sheriff said a sawmill worker, Muri Cox, said he talked with Mrs. Foster at the mill early Tuesday.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — One thing showed through the busy bustle of the Moscow airport this week when everybody who is anybody in Russia kissed Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev.

The two Red leaders, returning from Britain like men who needed affection after the cool reception there, seem determined to improve relations with the West or give a good impression of trying.

They could have arrived home in a huff. It wouldn't have been surprising. The British Socialists needed Khrushchev into blowing his top. And their talks with Prime Minister Eden were not, according to reports, overly successful.

Instead, as soon as they alighted from their plane they gave a friendly nod toward the British Isles and then turned their full gaze on the United States like two traveling salesmen getting ready for a new customer and hardly able to wait.

If the United States and the Soviet Union both show good will, Khrushchev said, they can make a lot of progress in developing trade and cultural relations and solving the disarmament problem.

These two men, Bulganin and Khrushchev, with their trips to Yugoslavia, Asia and Britain, have gone to a lot of trouble to make Russia look like a friendly neighbor on the street of nations.

There is danger of underestimating them. It is usual in this country to be suspicious and even scornful of the Russians. The suspicion is natural since Khrushchev himself has said Communism's aim remains the same: to communize the world.

But scorn is out of date. The Russians are no longer backward. They are next to this country in industrial development. They may pull abreast. And in the past couple of years they have shown initiative and imagination.

What effect they're having with their new tactics may not appear for a year, or five years or a decade. In this country the habit is to judge the success or failure of foreign policy in terms of months or at the most four years.

Every four years the administration, Democratic or Republican, has to justify its foreign policy before the voters. But time has a different meaning for the Russian leaders. They are not answerable at any given moment to the Russian people.

And, since they operate on the theory that communism will win out in the end, they can take their time. Bulganin and Khrushchev are moving fast but they still don't act like men in a rush.

Food Stamp Plan For Surplus Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Dingell (D-Mich.) favors starting a food stamp plan under which a low income family would get $10 worth of surplus foods free each month. Families in need, on relief, or receiving unemployment insurance payments would, under Dingell's plan, receive certificates which could be exchanged at stores for foods declared surplus.

Dingell said this would improve inadequate diets of 7 million low-income families, boost grocery sales and raise farmers' net income by more than 5 per cent.

May 13 Tagged As Mother's Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has called for observance of May 13 as Mother's Day.

In a proclamation, the President said the American mother "stands as a symbol of those high principles and lofty ideals which sustain and enrich our nation."

"It is fitting that we should acknowledge anew our gratitude, our reverence for our own mothers and for all mothers of our great nation."

$2,966.76 Total Funds Collected For Heart Fund

New Officers Named For County Group At Monday Meeting

Total collections for the 1956 Heart Fund drive in Pickaway County totaled $2,966.76, according to a report presented at the group's annual meeting.

The Pickaway Heart Council also elected new officers at the meeting. These are: Dr. V. D. Kerns, president; Mrs. Kenneth Robbins, vice-president; Mrs. Hoyt Timmons, secretary; and Dr. D. S. Goldschmidt, treasurer.

The report on the collections was given by C. O. Leist. Goal of this year's drive, based on the county's population, was $3,500. However, it was pointed out that since not all of the people were contacted, the money collected represented a "most satisfactory" campaign.

In addition to the total announced, the Heart Fund here is also to get approximately $1,000 from the estate of Harry McGhee. But this money will not be available for about six months and therefore could not be included in the present total, according to a spokesman for the group.

DURING THE meeting, Mrs. Timmons gave a report on the Central Ohio Heart Association meeting which she attended in Columbus. She was a delegate from this county.

The group was told that library kits will be passed out to all junior and senior high schools in Circleville and the county. A set will also be put in the public library.

Members of the Pickaway Heart Council include the officers, and Dr. H. H. Swope, Mrs. William Radcliff and Miss Ruth Montelius.

Dry Cleaner Finds $1,800 In Pocket

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Do you leave coins and other items in the pockets of garments sent to the cleaners?

If so, don't feel bad. A man here left $1,800 in a suit coat pocket.

A shocked cleaning shop clerk found the wad and returned it to the patron. The shop withheld the patron's name because "it might prove embarrassing."

Sokolsky's These Days

The technique of mutual aid, which the Russians cultivate, seems to strengthen their position, while our technique of direct subsidies to governments based on a concept of give-away has produced at best neutralism and at worst, enmities.

It would seem that in view of the Russian policy, so clearly defined by Khrushchev, it is essential that American policy be reviewed to determine whether it should be continued as is or should be revised or dropped altogether and something novel substituted. There can be no sense in continuing a policy which costs us so much and which apparently is of so little advantage to us.

The Congress cannot make the revisions because it lacks the facts which are withheld from it on the curious theory that Congress can legislate without knowledge which is now supposed to be the exclusive possession of the particular department engaged in the operation and not of the people of the United States.

It is more intelligent to give us all the facts, for collectively, we are 165,000,000 of us, as wise, let us say, as Harold Stassen. It is difficult to convince the White House that secrecy can, in a free society, be a liability.

Colorado Teacher Offered Job But Can't Mix Booze

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Teacher Theodore Colton, 27, can return to his science classroom at Corwin Junior High School this fall if he wishes, but he'll have to mix his drinks at home.

Six trustees of School District 60 voted unanimously Tuesday night to offer Colton a 1956-57 teaching contract under a resolution which forbids employment in any phase of the liquor industry.

Colton, a science teacher here for three years, has tended bar nights for two years at a hotel cocktail lounge. Friends say he wanted to supplement his teaching salary, estimated at $4,300 a year.

The School Board came under heavy fire from teachers, students and parents after three of its members voted April 10 not to offer Colton a new contract. Members of the Pueblo Teachers Foundation began a resignation-day campaign in protest.

18 New Armories In Ohio Sought For Reservists

The proposed armories, number of men to be trained in each, and the cost:

Ashtabula, 200, $175,000; Athens, 100, $75,000; Chillicothe, 200, $175,000; East Liverpool, 200, $175,000; Fremont, 100, $75,000; Kenton, 200, $175,000; Mount Vernon, 100, $75,000; Newark, 100, $75,000; Painesville, 100, $75,000; Plymouth, 100, $75,000; Portsmouth, 200, $175,000; Sandusky, 100, $75,000; St. Marys, 100, $75,000; Steubenville, 200, $175,000; Urbana, 100, $75,000; Belaire, 200, $175,000; Bryan, 100, $75,000; Cadiz, 100, $75,000.

Siamese Piglets Proving Problem

PLATTEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Ellis Hampson is wondering what to do with 3-day-old Siamese twin pigs, borne by a crossbred sow along with 15 normal brothers and sisters.

"I hate to think of killing them," he said. "They seem to be as healthy and lively as any pigs we have, but they are joined at the chest and can't walk."

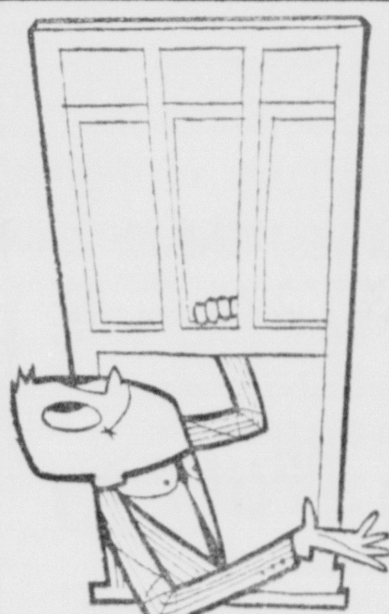

"My wife Marjorie and I have been feeding them milk from a bottle every half hour, but we can't keep that up for long. "It beats me. What would you do with them if they were yours?"

Whole Town Shut; All Going Fishing

SEYMOUR, Tex. (AP) — Just as it has done for the past 29 years, Seymour closed up Tuesday—lock, stock and barrel—to go fishing.

"Gone fishing" signs were placed in all store windows of this northwest Texas town of 3,779 population as the annual May 1 Fish Day was observed.

By proclamation of the mayor, everyone was urged to take the day off and head for Lake Kemp, nine miles away, where the Chamber of Commerce has posted $100 in fishing and boat race prizes.

Shakespeare's Reputation Still 'Good'

CHICHESTER, England (AP) — Stonemasons pried open a 400-year-old tomb here to prove William Shakespeare was a literary fraud but found nothing to damage the Bard's reputation.

After two hours of digging into the St. Nicholas Church tomb of the Walsingham family, they lifted a heavy marble slab to reveal a few fragments of glazed tile, a load of sand and a layer of brick.

They holed through the brick and lowered a light, revealing only a lead casket below. The government already had decreed the casket could not be opened.

The project was the brainchild of Calvin Hoffman, 49-year-old New Yorker. He had hoped to find early 17th Century documents to prove his theory that Christopher Marlowe, an Elizabethan poet and dramatist, authored the plays and poems attributed to Shakespeare.

Hoffman was adamant. "I intend to continue my researches." But he gave no indication of his next move.

Hoffman contends that history is wrong in saying Marlowe was killed in a Thames River tavern brawl in 1593. Instead, he theorizes, the poet's patron, Sir Thomas Walsingham, hid him out to save him from the headman's ax for another's body.

Then, Hoffman's theory goes, Walsingham hired Shakespeare, a little known London actor-manager, to front as the author of the plays and poems the fugitive turned out in his hiding place.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Glen Bush, 27, of Cincinnati was sentenced to 2-13 years in Ohio Penitentiary yesterday for possessing heroin.

Girard Employees Finally Get Paid

YOUNGSTOWN (AP) — City employees in nearby Girard got their first pay checks in a month yesterday, after passage of a new budget by city council.

The new $184,803 budget compromises differences between the Democratic council and Republican Mayor Joseph Catone, which blocked city expenditures for a month.

Electric Brain Might Explain Detroit Status

Pre-Season Selection Had Tigers On Top, But They're Seventh

By the Associated Press
If only Dalatrat the electric brain could talk, maybe it would have some explanation as to why the Detroit Tigers are in seventh place in the American League today, just half a game out of the basement.

Dalatrat, you may recall, picked the Tigers to win the pennant and no "ifs" about it. Most of the experts thought the New York Yankees would win it.

Actually, the reasons for the Tigers' failings are apparent enough. The power boys of the Bengal lineup—Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn and Ray Boone—aren't hitting. Boone has a .262 average, Kaline .227 and Kuenn .190.

The Tigers dropped a 9-2 decision to the Yanks in New York Tuesday. Although the defeat was humiliating, Manager Bucky Harris found some cause for optimism. Kaline and Boone each collected two hits and Kuenn one, so they may be snapping out of it.

When they do, the Tigers will be dangerous. Whitey Ford handcuffed the Bengals for his third victory of the season. Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer hit home runs for the winners. The game was close only until the third inning when the Yanks broke it open with four runs.

Elsewhere in the American League, the last-place Baltimore Orioles pulled out an 11-inning, 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox; the Indians turned back the Washington Senators, 3-2, on a run in the ninth, and the Kansas City A's edged the Boston Red Sox, 3-2.

The National League also had a new leader—the Milwaukee Braves. They inched past both the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers by virtue of a 6-4 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The upstart Pittsburgh Pirates knocked the Cards out of first place with a 4-2 victory and the Cincinnati Redlegs, behind the sixth pitching of Johnny Klippstein, downed the Dodgers, 3-1. The New York Giants outlasted the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, in another game.

Baltimore's victory over the White Sox had an ironic twist. The Pale Hose played their first six games without an error, but made four in this one, and, as fate would have it, one led to the winning run.

White Sox relief pitcher Dixie Howell threw wild on Billy Gardner's sacrifice bunt in the 11th, permitting Bobby Boyd to jog home. Bill Zwerfink, who pitched the last two innings, was the winner.

The Indians' triumph was a combination of his effort of Early Wynn, who hung up victory No. 3 on a seven-hitter, and Al Smith clubbing. In the ninth, Smith collected his third hit, a double, moved along to third, then scored on Chico Carrasquel's sacrifice fly.

The A's had to overcome a two-run Red Sox lead to gain the victory for Lou Kretlow. They scored once in the sixth and twice more in the eighth. Jim Flingan scored the winning run on a squeeze bunt by Joe DeMaestri.

Bill Bruton doubled Joe Adcock home in the seventh to break up a 4-4 tie and give Milwaukee the game over Philadelphia. Eddie Mathews hit a two-run homer for the Braves in the third, his third of the season. Dave Jolly, who relieved Bob Buhl in the seventh, was the winner.

17 Expected As Entries In '56 Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The names of 17 horses are expected to be dropped into the entry box tomorrow for the 82nd and richest Kentucky Derby.

Needles is still rated the horse to beat. With only a dissenting vote here and there, the trainers here went right down the line today in the selection of the son of Ponder, the 1949 Derby winner, to take down the major share of the $125,000 added purse.

If all 17 parade to the post at Churchill Downs, the race will gross $167,400 with the winner earning a net of $123,300. Both figures surpass the record 1955 totals when Swaps won $108,400 of the gross purse of $152,500.

Victor of Calumet Farm's Fabius yesterday in the mile of the Derby Trial and the unexpected strong showing of several horses behind him only tended to increase the size of the field.

Asked to name the horse to beat after Fabius stepped the mile in 1:36.6 and turned back the surprising stretch challenge of Countermind with Head Man third, the trainers of the leading candidates still strung along with Needles.

Jimmy Jones (Fabius and Pinot Lea), Buddy Raines (Countermind), Syl Veitch (Career Boy and Head Man) and Harry Trotsek (Black Emperor) were among the trainers naming Needles as the horse to be headed in the testing mile and one quarter run. Only Colin MacLeod was of a different opinion. He said he would string along with Countermind.

alive in the eighth after trailing, 2-1, and scored one run to tie it and pushed across two more in the ninth to hang the defeat on Vinegar Bend Mizell. Roy Face was the winner.

Carl Erskine and Clem Labine hurled creditably for the Brooks, giving up on eight hits, but they couldn't match Klippstein's work. He was tagged for a run only in the fourth.

Jim Hearn of the Giants won another nice hurling duel, besting Warren Hacker of the Cubs. Hearn yielded four hits and Hacker and Jim Brosnan, who pitched the final inning was tapped for only six. Hearn's only mistake was a home-run ball to Don Hoak in the fourth.

CHS To Face Groveport '9' On Thursday

Circleville will face Groveport Thursday at 4 p. m. at Ted Lewis Park in a District Class A baseball game.

Groveport, behind the two-hit pitching of Jerry Roof, submerged Whitehall 19 to 0 Tuesday in the opening round to play. Roof, a fine all-around athlete, helped the cause with four hits out of five trips to the plate.

Some of the shine of the victory is discolored by the fact that Whitehall, a relatively new high school, only has freshmen and sophomores. Groveport has a 3-2 record, with Whitehall standing at 0-5.

Coach Dick Boyd will probably send his ace right hander Jim McConnell to the mound for the Tigers. McConnell has been pitching tight ball for the past 12 straight innings and CHS has been coming up with some powerful hitting.

Washington C. H., the other SCOTL team in the Central Ohio District, fell before Gahanna 7 to 1. The Blue Lions admittedly have a weak baseball team this season.

Ashville-Granville, Scioto-Iberia Tilts Mark Class B Play

Ashville will face Granville and Scioto will meet Iberia in District Class B baseball games on Thursday.

The Broncos will play at Linden Park, off Cleveland Ave., in the Northend of Columbus. The Buffaloes have been scheduled for Lincoln Park, in the Southend of the capital city. Both games are set for 4 p. m.

Ashville, defending Pickaway County champion, will not get a chance to meet Scioto for the county title. There is not enough time on the schedule, according to George McDowell, county superintendent of schools.

The Broncos have good all-round strength and have played steady ball. Scioto's main hope apparently rests with Del Neff, who has been amassing an amazing number of strikeouts. Good hitting has also helped the Buffaloes.

Landy Plans New Pace In Mile Effort

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Miler John Landy of Australia figures if he runs slower at the start and faster at the finish he can lower his world record time of 3 minutes 53 seconds.

The second man in the world ever to crack the four-minute mile also believes there are runners today capable under optimum conditions of clipping four or five seconds from his record. And he feels that some day, also under perfect conditions, a runner may go the mile in 3 minutes 50 seconds.

When Landy set the record in 1954 at Turku, Finland, he ran the first half mile in 1:58.7, which he now considers too fast a start for a speedy finish.

The slender, 146-pound Aussie's plan is to run the first half mile in two minutes flat and then finish faster than before. He'll get a chance to try the method at the Coliseum on Saturday.

He'll face such foes as Villanova's Ron Delaney, Oregon's Jim Bailey and Bill Dellinger and the world half-mile record holder Lno Spurrier.

Landy says his showing Saturday in the nationally televised race will be largely dependent on how well he becomes acclimated between now and then. He flew in from San Francisco yesterday after his ocean crossing.

Joey Brown Hopes To Down Champion

HOUSTON (AP) — Joey Brown, a 3-2 underdog seeking a rematch for the title, says he will try for a knockout against world's light-weight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith in their scheduled 10-round non-title boxing match tonight.

A crowd of about 7,500 is expected for the Sam Houston Coliseum match that will be televised nationally at 9 p. m.

Brown, a 29-year-old New Orleans Negro who calls himself the man nobody wants to fight, says a knockout, particularly by the sixth round, should force Smith to accept a rematch for the title.

Restaurant Closes For Derby Week

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—At least one place of business in the United States will be closed down for Saturday's running of the Kentucky Derby.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Lozzi, who operate a restaurant in Seattle, Wash., will close up shop for a week so they can be on hand to see their horse, Count Chic, run in the $125,000 added turf classic.

Count Chic is given only an outside chance of taking down the major share of the purse.

Student Paper Urging Pro Grid Setup

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Lantern, Ohio State University student newspaper, has suggested in an editorial that college football be placed on a professional basis.

The editorial, entitled "Yes, We Are Guilty," appeared on the first page of the student-staffed newspaper. It referred to Ohio State's athletic probation by the Big Ten Conference, announced recently after an investigation by Commissioner Tug Wilson.

"Our crime was two-fold," the editor said. "We allowed football players to accept money for work they had not done. And our coach, Woody Hayes, doled out personal gifts and loans to players—in direct violation of the Big Ten regulations."

"We are guilty. No one in official position questions that inescapable fact."

Then the editorial expressed belief the Big Ten was hunting for a "scapegoat," and asked whether the Western Conference, having spanked Ohio State, can stop now.

"Should not the conference also probe into their other schools' athletic structures with the meticulous FBI thoroughness used here?" the editorial asked.

Favorite Tangle In Golf Tourney

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Two pre-tournament favorites, Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., and Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., collided today in the second round feature of the 41st Southern Women's Amateur Golf tourney.

Miss Creed, 17-year-old high school student, advanced to the second round yesterday by downing Mrs. Harry Henderson of Alexandria, La., 3 and 1.

She was the tourney medalist last year with a 72 and won the Louisiana state championship.

Redlegs Acquire New Lefty Hurler

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs sent one southpaw pitcher to the minors yesterday and acquired another from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Reds sent Don Gross to their Havana farm club of the International League on 24-hour option. Gross had a 4-5 record for the Reds last year after joining them in July.

A trade of infielder Milt Smith to St. Louis brought Paul LaPalme to the Reds. LaPalme had a 4-3 record in 1955.

Patterson Hiked In Ring Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano's retirement has pitched Brooklyn's Floyd Patterson directly into the wide open heavyweight scramble.

In his first monthly rating since Marciano's abdication, Editor Nat Fleischer of Ring magazine removed the 21-year-old Patterson to fifth ranking heavyweight.

The ratings list light heavyweight champion Archie Moore of San Diego, Calif., as the No. 1 heavyweight followed by: 2. Tommy Jackson, 3. Bob Baker, 4. Johnny Holman, 5. Patterson, 6. Johnny Summerlin, 7. Willie Pastrano, 8. Harold Carter, 9. Bob Satterfield, 10. Eddie Machen.
